Planeclear, referred to as an industry leader in charter membership, has selected Chamberlain Yachts International as their exclusive travel partner. This affiliation provides planeclear members access to the finest luxury yachts available.

Chamberlain Yachts is world-renown as a leader in the Superyacht industry. The company is headed by Kent Chamberlain who also serves as chairman of the Superyacht Network, one of the industry's most prestigious organizations.

Chamberlain's staff of charter agents, yacht management personnel, yacht brokers, and highly-trained concierges provides clients with a full spectrum of services. They employ a team approach; all clients benefit from the resources of the entire staff who pull together to insure that each client's expectations are fulfilled.

Alois Ryan Rubenbauer, Managing Director of planeclear said, "The synergy is a natural fit. Both planeclear and Chamberlain Yachts maintain the highest of standards in our respective categories, and together we offer unparalleled services. Our clients are very similar and will take advantage of the added resources, allowing us to continue gaining market share in the luxury travel sector." Further Rubenbauer added that Planeclear places the safety and security of its clients first, but we are best known for our unique transparent booking process which provides our clients with access to the "real numbers. No one else in the industry does this." This policy sets them apart from the competition.

planeclear provides helicopter and jet transportation to link up with Chamberlain's yachts at a any destination worldwide, providing a superior business or holiday experience when compared to competitors in this market segment.
